It can be yours

The James E Dutton Foundation has provided a grant to Adaptive Sportsmen Inc. to start a program helping physically challenged people with the cost of acquiring their own Adaptive Equipment for enjoying the outdoors. Applications are being reviewed and should be sent to 8727 W Coldspring Rd Greenfield, WI 53228. Thank you is an inadequate expression for their generosity. We are eternally grateful.

Clintonville hunt 2018

This was my first Adaptive Sportsmen hunt. On arrival we met Everett an incredible gentleman who gave us a tour of his land that we would be hunting. There were about 20 people in camp. Mary & Greg were the hostel and host providing us with more munchies and food than we really needed. Everyone gained weight. We would head out before day break and return for a late breakfast. After a nap we headed out for the evening hunt and returned at dark for dinner with all the trimmings. Joe was the organizer who coordinated everything from setting up blinds to pick up and delivery with UTVs. I personally saw many deer including bucks in the chasing phase that were too far out for a shot. I believe everyone had some encounters with deer. I would suggest to anyone in the future you would not want to miss this opportunity of fellowship and camaraderie that I will never forget from the Clintonville Hunt Camp Christus. By Greg Edgerle

Check our Facebook page for more pictures. Send in photos of your fishing and hunting activities (and success) if you would like to share them.

Kelly Lake Ice Fishing Event

Adaptive Sportsmen joined with Wisconsin Hero for the 2019 Ice Fishery at Kelly Lake. The temperature was around 20 degrees, a substantial warm up from minus 20 degrees two days earlier. The fish were more fussy this year, eleven feet seemed to be the spot at which they would bite. Some people went home with a bag of bluegills. We had chili, hot dogs, chicken soup, banana bread and cookies on shore or delivered to one of the ice shanties. John Mitchell

Wyoming Hunt 2018

October 2018 found me immersed in the beauty of the Wyoming prairie chasing my very first mule deer. I set a goal to harvest a respectable 4x4 muley and was delighted after the first afternoon of scouting turned up a multitude of deer. The deer were feeding on the tiny acorns of pin oaks where they felt comfortable to mil around during daylight hours.

On the 1st morning of the hunt, my companions and I became quite discouraged as the driving rain and ever present Wyoming winds had us scouring for cover. That afternoon our luck would change as my hunting buddy Aaron spotted two bucks bedded on a hillside scattered with the scrub oaks we identified as a food source the previous day. We laid out plans for a stalk and began carefully pursuing our target animal. A crosswind allowed us to close the distance undetected by the bucks. Suddenly out of nowhere a spike buck came prancing directly in front of us, only 15 yards away! My comrades and I froze. The young buck studied our outline and apparently decided we were a non threat. However the direction of his travel led around us. It is so neat to hear the gobbles of the toms bouncing back and forth in the woods all around us. While all this noise was going on we saw two toms come across the open field in front of us. They got within 100 yards of us but then turned north to go across the road. We were so disappointed. No amount of calling seemed to bring any other toms close.

They then the two toms who crossed the road decided to come back. They re-crossed the road and answered the calls. Suddenly the lead tom just started running in towards our decoys. Gert ready my guide whispered. Gus. Up just in time, I saw the tom and shot just before he ran over the decoys. Boom, down he went. The other tom must have been his long picked on brother because he began to attack the dead tom. It wasn’t until my guide opened the blind door and stepped out that the tom decided to leave his dead companion behind.

We walked out to pick up my turkey and while standing in the field we heard another tom start gobbling in the woods around 100 yards away. That tom came up to the edge of the woods and continued to gobble as he walked by us just inside the edge of the woods. He would answer the calls my guide was making the whole time while just within view. What a wonderful day to end a spring turkey hunt. Allen Neu

Spring Turkey Hunt Success

We all have our success stories and I would like to share mine from this spring. For many years now I have been going up to Wausau to turkey hunt with Wayne Krueger and Wheel Em In. (Wayne’s 501(c)3). He hosts many hunts for disabled people and I have been fortunate to participate in them over the years.

This spring he hooked me up with a new guide with a trak chair to hunt an area that hadn’t had much pressure. We got in before dawn and took the trak chair down to the blind he set up. He brought along a friend who really loved to call turkeys and the three of us sat down to wait for light.

The sun was just on the edge of the horizon when an owl hooted in the woods. That got a gobble from a tom just west of the blind, and then another to the north of the blind, and then two more from turkeys to the south of us. It is so neat to hear the gobbles of the toms bouncing back and forth in the woods all around us. While all this noise was going on we saw two toms come across the open field in front of us. They got within 100 yards of us but then turned north to go across the road. We were so disappointed. No amount of calling seemed to bring any other toms close.

Include Adaptive Sportsmen in Your Will

Estate planning is never a real popular topic to talk about, but it is better to plan now than leave your heirs wondering what you wanted to do. You can also take the time to sort out what you want to leave as a legacy. Adaptive Sportsmen is hoping that you will consider us when you start your planning.

Donation of hunting equipment and adaptive equipment. We can get your used equipment to a needy ASI member or sell it and use the proceeds for the events we sponsor. Hunting, fishing, crossbows, and guns are popular items to donate.

Donate in the form of a charitable trust. We can act as the trustee for your charitable trust if you want to transfer larger donations or real estate while retaining control of the asset during your lifetime.

Tim Welch Wyoming Hunt

On October 1, 2018, I was fortunate to have the hunt of a lifetime with the Outdoor Adventures for the Physically Challenged group in Newcastle, Wyoming. I applied for the hunt at the Madison Deer and Turkey show in Madison about 5 years ago, and was selected for a Mule Deer and Antelope hunt. There were 3 other disabled hunters, along with their helpers, and the guides from Outdoor Adventures. All together there were 14 people in the accessible house.

I’m in a manual wheelchair, and before dawn on opening morning my guides Mike, Gator, and James loaded me in a modified flatbed truck in search of deer. We covered a lot of land, and the guides only spotted 2 deer, which we couldn’t get to. Mike drove us to 1 last area before we headed in for lunch. Sure enough, the guides spotted deer on a ridge, the problem was getting close without getting busted. We drove around the woods cover and got close as we could. I saw the profile of a buck before I started trying. Not to try to get buck fever, the guys said it was 309 yards, and uphill! I shoot a 30.6, and had never shot over 200 yards.

I shoot a 4 doe, no luck. Second shot I dropped down to 1 foot over his back-nothing. Third shot I settled on the top of his back-click, dead round. By this time, I’m shacking from being nervous and loosing, so Gator ejects the round and we chamber last round. I line up, shoot, and the guides go nuts as he drops. I don’t believe it. Beautiful, mature 4x4.

It gets better, we head in for a late lunch and the guys clean and refrigerate the deer. Power steering went out on truck, so guides load me into small trailer behind ATV to try for antelope. See goats, but too far and towards roads. Days ending, I’m still in dream world from the muley, and very tired. The guys ask if I want to try one more spot before heading in, fortunately we did.

We see one bull, it’s a 4 doe, and Mike again got us within range without spooking them. By this time, I’m dragging, as Gator tells me its “only” 209 yards. After what seemed like forever for the buck to move from the does, I got him. The other tom must have been his long picked on brother because he began to attack the dead tom. It wasn’t until my guide opened the blind door and stepped out that the tom decided to leave his dead companion behind.

We walked out to pick up my turkey and while standing in the field we heard another tom start gobbling in the woods around 100 yards away. That tom came up to the edge of the woods and continued to gobble as he walked by us just inside the edge of the woods. He would answer the calls my guide was making the whole time while just within view. What a wonderful day to end a spring turkey hunt. Allen Neu

2018 Game Report

Opening weekend Sunday morning, GOD blessed me with a doe. Mike Little.

I was lucky this year as I got 2 does from my wheelchair. Joe Palmer
